I eventually fell asleep at | a/pm. Please note the time I fell asleep is an estimate based on past patterns and how tired I feel at the last note update of the night. I had a [term] day with my journaling today, getting over 0,660 words, and over 03,890 characters. There are 03 pages in today's document according to LibreOffice writer. Note that "how good" of a day I had with my journaling depends on the word and character counts. Other document qualities rely on different measurements

End of day (outro)

Outro removed on October 1st 2020, no longer necessary, as I have my journaling more under control

(PLEASE READ OUTRO TO LEARN IMPORTANT INFO ABOUT TODAYS DOCUMENT)

Outro is obsolete. Some references may remain, but you should always read previous documents first. Don't take content out of context.

Also, make sure to read overnight and daytime notes as well for more context, along with associated dates of new image, video, and other media data, such as screenshots, reddit, camera, and more.

This journal is a very advanced structure, but strives for accuracy.

Daily journaling started on September 27th 2016, entries before then are backed up with date data, and don't cover everything yet, I am still working on archiving older data.

Images aren't spammed in journaling since the December 28th 2018 document, as it became excessive. This was the worst issue in December of 2018.

This journal is a complex structure. Make sure to read all documents, notes, and search for mentioned files to get the full context.

Outro updates are made at the beginning of each month, so check for updates on the 1st, then you don't have to read it again for the rest of the month, it will just be there (January 2020 and above) the external outro has been abandoned as of February 18th 2019.

Plot holes are very rare. If any come up, I will fill them, as I hate clusters of holes
